

United Artists Film Uses Atwater Kent Radio to Re-broadcast Voice of Actor

Experiments in the history of radio and motion pictures was successfully attempted at the United Artists studios a few days ago when an Atwater Kent Screen-Grid model was used in the "The Charm" featuring Fannie Brice. The defector tube was tapped and the amplifying system used to re-broadcast the speech of an actor some distance away, permitting genuine radio reproduction from the sound microphone. The two prominent figures in the accompanying photograph are Fannie Brice (left) and Gertrude Astor, the latter sitting on the table beside the radio.

Joe Stone is recovering slowly from the attack of "Stanforditis". Thinks he'll be able to visit the bank without embarrassment within a month or so.

"Skinny" Hill wishes it to be known that he won a ten-spot on Stanford against California—but wait. "Skinny" forgot to finish—his records show a loss of twice that amount on Ohio State to beat Illinois. If you want to make a showing "Skinny" you had better "hide out" your records.

Al Monroe, Joe Redmond and Ed Nylan are recovering from injuries received while on way to work last week. A heavy fog was said to be the reason for Redmond's car colliding head-on with another car between Redondo and Torrance. Monroe who was riding with Redmond, received a fractured knee cap and is now in the hospital. Ed Nylan looks about the same as usual excepting a few minor bruises.

Our vice president, Mr. Dave Faulkner, had "some" business to look after up at Palo Alto last weekend. Said while up there that he might as well look the football game over. Oh, no, it just "happened" to be the weekend which the game was, that's all. (?)

Al Wit4 is sore as a bunion for not thinking of a "gold" tournament up around Frisco last Saturday. Didn't seem to realize that almost all the "big guns" had heaps to attend to up in that vicinity over the weekend.

Guy Claire was called back to his old home in Indiana, due to the death of his mother-in-law.

"Wee" Maguire and lawyer, Chas. Clark are again off their diet, due to having finally picked one right. Dear old Stanford saved the day. Now, boys, we'll all be seeing you for next week.

Arthur Hirmaster has recovered sufficiently to again be back on his job. Art sprained his wrist evidently reaching for bets on U. S. C. to beat California and after the game. Oh, well, Art didn't feel any too well, so he used every "ounce" trying to forget. He looks fairly well!

Thomas Bowker Jr. is again in the limelight, due to having pulled another of his old foolish tricks and picked California to trounce Stanford. This boy Tom is not so evident until the hat comes around, then we know Tom's off—yet!

California ..... 15
U. S. C. .... 7
Notre Dame ..... 13
U. S. C. .... 12

This calls for a little slow music. The last rites for Spud Murphy will be held immediately after the Carnegie Tech game. All those who were taken by him during the indoor baseball season are invited to attend. The Rev. Tom Bowker will conduct the services.

Want 182nd St. Paved Across Nigger Slough

The Gardena Valley Chamber of Commerce has sent a communication to the Los Angeles city engineer asking for the improvement of 182nd street across the Nigger Slough from Vermont avenue east. The request was referred to the public works committee.

Torrance Woman's Nephew Plays Lead With Greta Garbo

Lew Ayres of Hollywood, 20 year old nephew of Mrs. O. B. Fossum of Cota avenue, was recently selected for the lead in the film version of "All Quiet on the Western Front." This is reputed to be the most sought after lead since "Peter Pan."

Mr. Ayers was formerly a banjo player and soloist with Halstead's orchestra at the Plantation and had his first part in "The Sophomore." His next part was as the young lover of Greta Garbo in "The Kiss," and his work in that picture merited his being chosen for the lead in "All Quiet on the Western Front."

Mr. Ayers' spectacular rise in the film world reads like a plot for a short story and is amazing because Lew himself has always dreamed of "being discovered" and becoming a movie star.

THAT CAR OF YOURS

All of the service brake connections should be well lubricated at all times. See that they function freely and easily, for life and property depend upon your brakes.

The auto owner with a closed car, who locks it on the street, should see that the door glasses can not be lowered from the outside.

The instrument board should be given careful attention at times, such as watching the ammeter and oil gauge, for this is the only way you have of telling if the motor is receiving the proper lubrication and the generator is doing its proper work.

If the steering wheel appears to have too much play, this condition should be remedied at once by adjusting the steering post's nut, which is found under the hood. A loose steering wheel causes misjudging of distance.

The spring that draws the clutch pedal back in place after the foot is taken off the pedal sometimes needs replacing. This is very important for a weak spring sometimes will cause a dragging clutch.

The emergency brakes should be tested often, for many times we park our car on a grade and forgetting to put it in gear we depend on the emergency brake to hold the vehicle.

When driving in a heavy fog, do not keep too close to the side of the road or curb, for sometimes a car is parked without lights with the result that serious damage might be done. A good suggestion for safe distance is about one and a half times the width of the car.

New Pavement for Western Ave. Planned

That Western avenue is to be improved shortly between Manchester avenue and 10th street, was indicated last week when the Los Angeles city engineer presented an ordinance to the council of intention to improve this strip. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee.
